Hickman Girl Finalist In Cheerleader Contest

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla. — A 21-year-old Fulton County girl has been named one of six finalists in the seventh annual Miss Cheerleader USA contest which is being held here through Dec. 29.

Jennifer Burcham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Burcham, Hickman, is among the six finalists after winning her bid in state competition. She is a senior at the University of Kentucky, majoring in English.

The five-foot, seven-inch blue-eyed brunette has been a cheerleader at the university for two years and was a cheerleader at Fulton County High School where she graduated with the highest average in her class.

Her past honors include being named Miss Kentucky in 1966 and participation in the Miss USA Beauty Pageant that same year along with being named Kentucky Derby Queen in 1965. Three weeks ago she was named the runner-up in the UK Homecoming Queen Contest.

She is a member of the Honorary Society which requires a 3.5 scholastic average for membership.

Clinton Woman's Club Gives Luncheon For Senior Citizens

— The Clinton Woman's Club entertained members of the Senior Citizen's Club with a luncheon at The Clinton Steakhouse, Friday at 1 p.m.

The 52 members of the two organizations were presented with Christmas corsages as they were seated and were also given candy cane favors. Tables were decorated with holly, cedar, lighted red tapers and other seasonal decorations. Gumdrops and fruitcake also decorated each table and served as dessert at the conclusion of the main course.

Carols were sung and Christmas customs of various countries, and of the members, were shared by the group under the direction of Mrs. Henry Edwards.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Austin Riede, Mrs. Ralph Golden, Mrs. H. S. Alexander and Mrs. W. N. Klueberg.

Attending the luncheon were Mesdames Lucy Bugg, Dessie Wilkins, Mary Moss, Leslie Barry, J. T. Callahan, R. H. Kaler, Sam Jackson, Jess Wry, Emma Denney, Dulcie Green, Butler Ringo, Roy Tooms, James Aldridge, Warren Latta, Burnett Gwyn, Clint Hopkins, Edmund Wroe, Waddy Davis, M. E. Weatherford, Elbert Kaler, Mary Parrott, Clyde Hopkins, Govie Wright, Carl Berry and Rebecca Watts.

Mesdames A. J. Klapp, John Veatch, Ralph Golden, Henry Edwards, Austin Riede, Edward Benedict, Minnie Smith, R. B. Jewell Jr., Wm. Massey, H. S. Alexander, Jack Johnson, Woodford Ringo Jr., Seldon Bugg, D. J. Craddock, Lola Mangrum, Essie Choate, Bessie Floyd, Alpha Floyd, Dennis McDaniell, Alva Kimbell, Alice Grubbs, Clarence Craddock, Agnes M. Deck, Elbert Mills, P. H. Porter, Miss Emma Johnson and Miss Marie Gore.

The Christmas Card that's good All Year!

Hand written message enhances Christmas Cards.

Christmas cards — like Christmas — come just once a year, but how much joy and happiness they bring!

The greetings which we send to friends are received in large, small, formal white and brightly colored envelopes. All send messages of holiday cheer. Christmas cards are even brighter when there's a hand-written message inside, personal wishes for the happy season.

Christmas cards, 93 years young in our country, started in England more than 125 years ago. In the days when penmanship flourished and school children were given daily exercises in the art of good penmanship, school masters gave exercises even at holiday time. Children wrote Christmas greetings — and the Christmas card was born.

At first, Christmas cards failed as a business venture. Though inexpensive, the cards were not accepted. Then in 1860, they began again, this time marked for success. Fifteen years later, they came to America where they started as large, flowery, expensive greetings.

Today, more than two billion cards are mailed each year, according to the Paper Mate Company's research. Today cards are of every size and description. Some are serious, some funny, some bright and cute. Many still place prime importance on the religious significance of the Christmas season.

For a few years, the printed names appealed as a time saver when sending holiday greetings. But soon the cards began to lose their meaning and thoughtful greetings — they seemed too businesslike for the merry season. Today, most people are writing their cards, personally signing each card with the hope that the receiver will have a very merry Christmas.

Now it's fun to receive hand-written notes on Christmas cards, a very special greeting. And it's fun to write them, especially to those we don't often see or hear from: It makes Christmas even more meaningful.

Now that red and green nylon tip pens are available, writing notes and signatures is no longer tedious. And those who like to design and make their own Christmas cards can use the pens to form fine or bold lines, to draw and to write.

The Christmas card has had a long history. From schoolchildren to the American family gathered about writing Christmas messages, the card brings, as always, a hope for the very merriest Christmas and the happiest New Year.

Governor Hints Cut In Sales Tax

FRANKFORT, Ky.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn indicates he is keeping the door open for a possible revision of the 5 per cent sales tax.

He gave the hint in an interview on the eve of his first year of office.

The Republican governor, who pushed the 2-cent tax increase through a Democratic-dominated 1968 Legislature, was asked if he would consider readjusting the tax should financial conditions warrant it.

"It was because of the financial reports available when we took office that we were forced to recommend the sales tax increase," he said.

"However, at any time those same financial reports indicate that a tax reduction is feasible, I would not hesitate to recommend accordingly."

Such a move, if made before January 1970, would require a special session of the 1968 Legislature.

The governor indicated that, if he had it to do over again, he still would have sought a 5 per cent tax.

"Had we not taken the action we did," he said, "I am firmly convinced Kentucky would have erased the progress that had been made and would have been forced to retreat to the bottom of the ranking among her sister states in every category of human service and development."

These facts were known by Democrats as well as Republicans, he said, "and that is why the recommendations we made were supported by responsible members of both parties."

Nunn was asked if he thought the sales tax would be an issue in the 1969 legislative races.

No, he said, "There are many other factors which will have more influence over the outcome."

Among them, he said, are the personalities of the opposition candidates, strength of the Democrats, salary increases voted by the lawmakers "and perhaps, of overriding importance, the effect of the county races."

Since Kentucky is an overwhelming Democratic state in terms of voter registration, Nunn said, "it is logical to assume that the county races will tend to polarize their strength and could seriously thwart our efforts to elect a majority in the General Assembly."

He added there is a traditional resurgence by the opposition during a mid-term election.

The governor has spoken widely around the state in his first year.

He believes public hostility to the 5-per cent tax has been exaggerated.

"I will admit that in the time immediately following the passage of the revenue measure, we were concerned," he said.

"I think now, however, that we were overly concerned because we mistook the vocal opposition of a few politically-motivated people to be the general sentiment throughout the state."

Nunn said time and personal observation have convinced him the people have "a wide understanding of the circumstances and the conditions which prompted the action taken by the legislature."

He cited Republican victories last November as "documented acceptance and approval of those actions."

Nunn was asked about the tendency of many Republican officials to use the word "deficit" in connection with the legacy from Democrat Edward T. Breathitt, his immediate predecessor.

Breathitt has insisted it is untrue to use the word "deficit" because his tightening of the budget in his final months was aimed at averting a deficit and none resulted.

"Gov. Breathitt is technically correct if he says there would have been no deficit by the end of the previous biennium, Nunn said, "because he knows Kentucky law demands that the state show a balanced budget at the end of each biennium."

"The drastic cutback in funds, services and programs which Gov. Breathitt ordered after the November election would have brought us near a balanced budget, but even this austerity program was too little and too late, according to the revenue and budget experts

Police Criticized For Policy Toward Students

MARTIN, Tenn., Dec. 5 — A Council and was published in the campus newspaper.

Gayle Percival, president, and Rusty Farrell, public relations officer of the Interfraternity Council accused the police of using the campus as a base for a speed-trap operation, and of harassing students by improper

The letter was written by officers of the Interfraternity searches and unjustified charges of driving while intoxicated.

Their letter also requested that the UTM administration act as a go-between for the students to help correct a situation which they described as becoming intolerable.

Meetings involving city officials, university administrators and student body representatives were held shortly after the letter was published.

Dr. Jack Mays, UTM vice chancellor of development, said the administration had not been aware of any concern over the matter and promised to support the students, but added that valid proof of student abuses by the police force must be furnished.

Percival today said that there had been less student "harassment" by the police since the meetings.

If you hear someone referring to a "booz" bottle, he's probably talking about the 1860 E. G. Booz cabin bottle that is a collector's item. This bottle and others can be viewed at the Harold Warp Pioneer Village at Minden Nebraska.

Tornado Snaps Falcon Streak— Tilghman Roars From Behind To Upend Hickman

By GLENN COCHRUM, Sun-Democrat Staff Writer
Saving their best for last, the Tilghman Blue Tornado overcame a 13-point deficit and swept past the previously unbeaten Hickman County Falcons 66-56 Saturday, to post their first win of the season. Hickman County is now 8-1.

The Tornado looked very impressive during the last 9:30 of the game as they battled back against the tough Hickman County team.

Ronnie Rose, 5-11 senior guard, led the Big Blue with 21 points before fouling out of the contest with 1:39 remaining. Ronnie Lee, 6-1 senior forward and Terry Garrett, 6-1 junior guard each netted 13 points. Tom Dickey, 6-2 reserve senior forward, contributed 10.

Alan Barclay, 6-2 senior forward led the Falcons with 16 points. James Crume, 6-9 senior guard tallied 13. Ronnie Mullins, 6-0 senior forward scored 11 and reserve forward Terry Fuller, a 6-0 junior, added 10.

The teams swapped baskets during the early portion of the game before the Falcons moved to a 16-10 first period lead. Tilghman struck a scoring drought and did not register a field goal from 4:38 of the first period until 6:28 of the second quarter.

Hickman County 76 Ballard Memorial 50

CLINTON, Ky. — Five players scored in double figures for Hickman County here Friday night as the Falcons rolled to a 76-50 win over the Ballard Memorial "Bombers" to extend their unbeaten skid to eight games.

Ronnie Mullins was high-point man for the Falcons of coach Jim Voight with 17 points followed closely by James Crume who collected 16 markers. Allen Barclay scored 14 points, Terry Fuller 12 and Fay Jordan 11 to round out the top five scorers for Hickman County.

Doug Garrett and John Fulford led the Ballard Memorial attack with 18 and 12 points, respectively.

HICKMAN, Ky.—Fulton County hit 50 per cent from the field and dominated the boards en route to a convincing 83-63 win over visiting Farmington here Friday night.

The Pilots raced to a 22-15 first-period advantage and were never headed. Fulton County led in rebounds 38-29.

Bobby Chris led the winners with 20, followed by Cubb Stokes with 19, Robert Nalls with 16 and Tommy Helper with 14.

Gary Barnes of Farmington led all scorers with 23.

For Someone Who Has Everything

Practically everyone has someone on his Christmas shopping list who has everything, and each year buying a gift for that someone gets a little bit harder. If that someone happens to be a member of the fair sex, here's a brand new, one-of-a-kind gift suggestion. Saunda, Inc., originators of the famed beauty mist machine, has introduced the "Saunda Vanity Mirror," which is 3-way (two side mirrors and a center mirror that swivels

The Tornado then battled back to trim the Falcon's half time lead to 30-28.

While Hickman County racked up five straight baskets in the third period, Tilghman hit another dry spell and did not register until 4:52 of the quarter, with Hickman leading 42-30. The Falcon's longest spread came at 1:11 of the third period when Barkley sank a fielder to make the score 48-35.

At that point, Tilghman went into a full court press and cut the score to 48-40 after three periods.

Tilghman's pressing tactics continued to pay off as Hickman County scored only one field goal in the first five minutes of the fourth period.

Tilghman, meanwhile, whittled the lead scoring on numerous Falcon floor errors. A tip-in by Stan Hall, 6-6 junior center, pushed the Tornado ahead, 51-50 at 4:48.

Hickman County's next field goal, a 10-footer by Barclay, came at 2:57, but by that time Tilghman's lead was 59-53. The Falcons could get no closer to the Tornado.

Tilghman head coach Berny Miller said he was pleased "with about the last 10 minutes of the game."

The Tilghman "B" team made it a sweep, scoring a 56-38 win over the Falcon B team.

Rives, SF Divide Pair

Invading South Fulton split a pair of junior varsity basketball games with Rives Thursday night, the Rives girls copying a 54-42 win and the young Devils of SF taking a 54-44 victory.

In girls action, Rives ran up a 21-13 halftime mark and added more to their victory margin in the final two periods. Frankie Forbus scored 23 and Melinda Thompson 15 for the Rives squad. Gregory took game scoring honors as the SF miss tossed in 27.

In boys action, Rives got behind early and could never catch up. They were down by eight, 14-6, at the end of the first period and wound up being beaten by 10 as they made a close one of it for the last three quarters.

John Sanders pitched up 25 points for Rives while Jackson with 18 and Winston with 13 led the Red Devils.

The games evened both Rives clubs' records at 2-2.

Martin Whips South Fulton

South Fulton lost two high school basketball games to invading Martin Friday night, the lady Red Devils tasting their first defeat of the season, 55-40, and the Devils experiencing a cold fourth period which sent them down to a 58-42 defeat.

The ladies from SF were down by only a single point, 11-10, at the first quarter break and were trailing by only four, 23-19, at the midway point.

They were outscored by four in the third period and Martin carried an eight-point bulge, 38-30, into the final seven minutes of action.

Julie Bard pumped in 23 points for the SF team while McMinn had 25 and Wright 23 for the Lady Panthers.

In boys' play, the story was much the same as the Devils fought almost even for a half, trailed slightly at the end of three and then hit a cold streak that spelled defeat.

They were down 14-13 at the end of the first, behind 26-23 at the midway mark and had slipped to seven-point deficit, 42-35, as the final period started. They could net only seven more during the last canto while the Panthers were dumping in 26 to widen their margin.

Johnny Wilson with 16 and Ralph Jackson with 10 led the Devil attack while Martin's Steve Rogers had 26 for game high honors. The SF girls now stand at 2-1 for the year while the boys are sporting a 1-3 mark.

Flowers Bloom With Festivity, In Yule Mood

Colorful, flowering plants add their own festive touches to the Christmas season. Many specially-produced blooms are available from florists and garden stores at this time of the year.

First there's the traditional Christmas favorite—the majestic poinsettia. It's available in red, white and pink, and its cost is usually determined by the number of blooms on each plant.

Poinsettias usually have their clay pots wrapped tightly in tinfoil for decorative purposes, but they'll last longer and stay healthier, with the foil loosened or removed.

HOW TO OUTWIT YOUR HOSTESS

So it's Holiday time. And time to outwit your hostess.

What's that you say? Outwit your hostess? Sounds lacking in manners, for sure. But I have in mind your protecting yourself when it comes to all those goodies that Holiday parties offer to thicken your waistline. That's the kind of outwitting of your hostess that this column will explore.

If the approach seems negative, think of the pounds you won't have to take off next month if you watch what you eat now. That will make you feel positive.

Your hostess doesn't mean it, of course. Her aim is to entertain you royally. But do you need all those calories?

Buffets Help

Buffets are a natural for outwitting your hostess since you do your own serving. Many hostesses nowadays serve buffet for just that reason — to allow their guests to have as much or as little as they wish.

But what do you do when seated at the dinner table and it's groaning with things that are endlessly tempting? This is where discipline become paramount.

You can avoid rich gravies, all gravies, in fact. You can cut the fat off your meat. If a platter is passed, you can attempt to serve yourself leaner cuts. Avoid excessive servings of bread or rolls. And all second helpings. Easy on the fats. Easy on salad dressings and oils. Somehow try to avoid large pieces of cake or pie for dessert. Leave some of any dessert at your place. Don't use too much sugar in your coffee.

One friend, of mine suggests that if your hostess-to-be is grossly overweight you should try to find a way to gracefully not accept the invitation for dinner. That seems drastic. But it's probably true that you will be expected to eat more at such a dinner. Is the moral here that you should choose your friends among more slender people? Since that's not a matter of nutrition, I won't advise. It's for you to decide.

Watch Alcohol Calories

At cocktail parties, and with respect to before-dinner drinks, you should nurse your drink. Nothing adds calories like alcohol. Hold it down. This is really one of the easiest ways to gracefully be at a party yet not join in the kind of activity that will exuberantly add calories that you'll later regret. I'm not talking about eliminating the joys of a good wine at dinner. We're talking instead about those excess drinks you don't need to enjoy yourself. Could be you'd even find a cocktail party more interesting.

Move Around

One way to do this is to visit with more people than usual. Don't get trapped in a corner with the same bunch. Move around more. If you do this on purpose, you can also avoid taking so many of those delicious hors d'oeuvres. You won't offend your hostess if you simply aren't there when she offers a fresh new tray full. But if you are caught and the tray is there, tempting, in front of you, there's one last trick you can use in self-defense. Take the hors d'oeuvres tray from your hostess and offer to help her serve. She'll love you and you're home free.

Share Your HOLIDAYS

Christmas is the season for being at home, enjoying family, friends and neighbors. And at Christmas, the 1,400 students of Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., join the exodus and head for home to enjoy their holiday season. But what of the foreign students on campuses around the country? At Monmouth, they are invited to share the holidays with a fellow student's family. This year, why not invite a foreign student to spend the holidays with you and share your happiness at Christmas.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Unclaimed Pot of Gold

Assets worth billions of dollars, unclaimed by their rightful owners, are being gobbled up instead by assorted government agencies. The process, known as "escheat," is gathering speed as officials become more keenly aware of this treasure trove within their reach.

How does it work? The keystone is the ancient legal doctrine that property, if left unclaimed too long, passes over to the government. As one court explained:

"When property has ceased to have an owner, it should be held for the benefit of the community."

This wealth accumulates in many forms: forgotten bank accounts, dividends on mislaid stocks, utility deposits that are never picked up, insurance proceeds that are never collected, legacies for missing heirs.

In recent years the amount of such unclaimed wealth has risen into billion-dollar figures. And an estimated one billion more is piling up every year.

As a result, all states have enacted escheat laws which, in varying degree, hasten a takeover by the government. Sometimes property is seized outright. Sometimes it is merely taken into protective custody, subject to being reclaimed by the owner if he turns up.

In any event, once the state has taken possession of an asset, getting it back is not easy. A claimant must bring himself strictly within the statutory requirements. Take this case:

After a man died, his family discovered that for many years he had failed to collect dividends on a certain stock. By the time of this discovery, the accumulated dividends had already been taken over by the state.

The family duly filed a claim for the money, but in vain. Under the local statute, a refund could be made only to the original owner of the stock—not to his heirs.

The best way to protect your assets from escheat is to be an "active" owner. That means keeping close tab on investments, cashing checks promptly, giving notice of changes of address.

Where the Sports are!

California leads the way — with New York close behind — when it comes to the wonderful world of sports, says the National Sporting Goods Association.

According to a recent tally of sporting goods sales in 1968, California and New York, along with Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, Michigan, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Florida, accounted for 59.22% of the total United States sports market!

The study also showed that America's "top ten" sports activities are (in order): boating, bowling, fishing, billiards, ice skating, camping, hunting, golf, water skiing and archery.

COMMERCIAL AVENUE (Formerly known as Church St.)
— Fulton, Ky. —

After Dec. 15th I cannot sell you a Pistol if you do not live in Ky. and it is doubtful about Rifles and Shotguns.
Even Ky. residents will be hampered in buying guns. So if you want a gun without going through a lot of Great Society Red Tape you had better buy it before December 15, 1968.

AN IRISH VIGNETTE

LIMERICK: On the road from Dublin I encountered several of the traveling Irish tinker families, traveling in their round-topped, gaily painted caravans. These are the wandering people of the Emerald Isle, those who fix umbrellas and sharpen knives, and who sometimes do a bit of begging from door to door.

The tinkers are a colorful sight on the Irish countryside, but when they camp near a town or city, the nearby residents aren't always pleased. I stopped to talk to several of them and learned of their gypsy life. They are one of the many interesting sights as one travels through the charming Irish countryside, where an ancient round tower or a ruined castle may pop up just around the next bend in the road.

— Lenore Lee.

Railway First

The first long-distance train of stainless steel was the "Burlington Zephyr," built in 1934 by The Budd Company of Philadelphia. The train traveled non-stop from Denver to Chicago.
